

Price checks on Pangkor island to continue

IPOH: The Perak branch of the Domestic Trade and Consumer Affairs Ministry will closely monitor prices of goods and services on Pangkor island come Jan 1 when its duty-free status starts.

Its director, Saifullizan Kamarul Zaman, said the ministry would check on errant traders taking the opportunity to raise prices drastically.

He said his officers had been checking prices on the island this month and would do so come Jan 1.

"During festivities and long holidays, especially, tourists would complain of an increase in food prices at restaurants.

"We will carry out frequent checks not only on the goods sold but also on the service industry, including hotels, restaurants, salons and others," he told reporters after visiting Tesco here to check on the festive season price control scheme in conjunction with Christmas.

Price checks on Pangkor island to continue

Tuesday, 24 Dec 2019

IPOH: The Perak branch of the Domestic Trade and Consumer Affairs Ministry will closely monitor prices of goods and services on Pangkor island come Jan 1 when its duty-free status starts.

Its director, Saifullizan Kamarul Zaman, said the ministry would check on errant traders taking the opportunity to raise prices drastically.

He said his officers had been checking prices on the island this month and would do so come Jan 1.

"During festivities and long holidays, especially, tourists would complain of an increase in food prices at restaurants.

"We will carry out frequent checks not only on the goods sold but also on the service industry, including hotels, restaurants, salons and others," he told reporters after visiting Tesco here to check on the festive season price control scheme in conjunction with Christmas.

